

MASSACHUSETTS
INTERFAITH POWER & LIGHT PRESENTS:

Deciding on Divestment from Fossil Fuels: From Congregations to Kitchen Tables

Wednesday, May 14, 2014

7 to 9 PM

Hancock Church
1812 Massachusetts Ave.
Lexington, MA

From religious congregations to universities to kitchen tables nationwide, people are debating divestment. Burning fossil fuels is the largest single contributor to human-caused climate change. If it is wrong to disrupt the planet's life systems, is it wrong to profit from such destruction?

Join us for a thought provoking forum to address these questions:

- ◆ What are the moral and financial reasons to divest from coal, oil and natural gas investments?
- ◆ Is fossil fuel divestment an effective strategy to address climate change?
- ◆ What are the financial implications of divestment?
- ◆ What should institutions and individuals consider when considering divestment?
- ◆ How can investment in energy efficiency, renewables and green solution companies be a wise choice that will lead to a clean energy future?

Rev. Dr. Jim Antal

Minister and President of the Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ
Jim authored the United Church of Christ Synod's move to divest.

Leslie Samuelrich

President
Green Century Capital Management
Leslie's firm is in the forefront of profitable fossil free investing. She oversees Green Century's shareholder resolution program.

Chuck Collins

Senior Scholar at the Institute for Policy Studies
Chuck is co-coordinator of www.divestinvest.org, a portal for individuals and philanthropic organizations divesting from the fossil fuel sector.

Cindy Davidson

Unitarian Universalist Ministry for the Earth Board Member
Cindy is active in UU Divest, and GreenFaith, and educates congregations about socially responsible investing, including shareholder advocacy.

Suggested donation: $10
For more information please email: fran@mipandl.org

FAITH IN ACTION FOR CREATION