Massachusetts Interfaith Environmental Network

with our “Green Connections” Award. The Massachusetts Interfaith Environmental Network (MIEN) is an inclusive, interfaith network that supports organizations and individuals as they work toward protecting the natural environment, preserving biodiversity, and affirming human rights. MIEN’s meetings and events have resulted in attracting new member congregations to MIP&L (among other benefits to the wider community of faith and the earth and its inhabitants). Thank you for informing the community of faith about environmental stewardship opportunities through MIP&L.
