Church of St. John the Evangelist, Boston

with our "Wisdom of Solomon" Award. When its old boiler abruptly stopped working in April (after heavy use during Holy Week), the Church of St. John the Evangelist had to make some important decisions about the heating system. The congregation had already completed an energy assessment through MIP&L membership, and was in a better position to move forward quickly and wisely. To the congregation's eternal credit, they installed a gas-based system that will provide zone-controlled, efficient, environmentally friendly heating for years to come. Thank you for setting a powerful example of environmental stewardship for the community of faith.
