Massachusetts Technology Collaborative

The Massachusetts Technology Collaborative has provided leadership for the Commonwealth in renewable energy and innovations making green economically viable. Before stimulus became an everyday term, MTC was leading the way for all manners of hard and soft solutions that ensured a sustainable economy and a sustainable planet.

As the administrator of the Clean Energy Choice program, MTC has prompted and prodded communities throughout the Commonwealth to encourage citizens to choose renewable energy, and then to display the results of their choices. MIP&L has been a proud collaborator in this effort in many Massachusetts communities, including Andover.

Thank you for your environmental stewardship.

Thomas E. Nutt-Powell
